IDELMANS LAUNCH E-SECURITY COMPANY IN OMAHA

Solutionary, Inc. joins Omaha's growing high-tech community

OMAHA, NE—Steve and Sheri Idelman, founders of Idelman Telemarketing, Inc., along with co-founders Mike Hrabik, Chris Rehberg and Sheila Diamond, have announced the launch of their latest venture, Solutionary, Inc., a provider of comprehensive e-security solutions. Solutionary, Inc. will be based in Omaha, Nebraska, with plans to expand its offerings to companies and organizations worldwide.

“Solutionary was founded because we saw a massive need for protection of information assets, which are vital to many businesses and organizations,” said Steve Idelman. “Our proprietary, patent-pending software, ActiveGuard™, makes a prominent leap towards providing round-the-clock, proactive security solutions for our clients.”

Solutionary is already providing its services to several clients, and has expanded its staff from the original five founders to 16 employees. A state-of-the-art, multi-million dollar Secure Network Operations Center is currently under construction in west Omaha. The company also has plans to significantly expand its staff, hiring at least 40-50 new employees, following the relocation to the new facility in June 2001.
